the only element that can, with lways a sound currency, enter into affaire to cause any continued de-pression in the industries and prosperity of our people. A great con-flict for national existence made necessary for temporary purposes the raising of large sums of money rom whatever source attainable. This begot a spirit of speculation involving an extravagance and lux ury not required for the happiness or prespenty of the people, and in-volving both directly and indirectly foreign indebtedness. The currency being of fluctuating value, it was therefore unsafe to bold for legitimate transactions requiring money, and became a subject of speculation in itself. There is no class of government employes who are harder worked than the simy officers and men, none who partorm their tasks more cheer-fully and more efficiently, and under solution proof of a compliance with the law. There are frequent instances of illegal and bardships. Legislation is desirable to render more efficiently, and under duly and more efficiently, and under circumstances of greater privations and bardships. Legislation is desirable to render more efficient this branch of the public service. All the track of the improperly obtained. In some cares the fraudulent character of the part of the part of the certificate itself; in others, examination discloses that the holder had not complied with the law; and in others, certificates have been obtained where the persons holding them, not only were not entitled to be naturalized, but had not even been within the United States at the time of the pretended naturalization in face of the pretended naturalization. Instances of each of these of subsistence stores without the proportation. Instances of each of these other claims have been disposed of, reducing somewhat the number claims and others have been disposed of pending, and others have been passed upon by the arbitrators. It has become apparent, in view of these figures and of the fact that the work devolving on the umpire is particularly isborious, that the comfor relieving the various states from indebtedness for arms charged to indebtedness for arms charged to the fraud is apparent on the face of such certificates they are taken up by the representatives of the Government and forwarded to the Department of State, but even the same period; for the discouragement of the court in which the fraudulent natural sation occurred remains, and duplicate certificates remains, and duplicate cert floates are readily obtainable.
